

It would be stressful, irritating and more than annoying for the passenger seated next to the cell phone user. The boom boxes had a place in public until people were fed up with the assault on their ears. I guarantee the same thing will happen if cell phones are allowed in flight. Allow internet use and people can e-mail to stay in touch. Peace and Quiet for Everyone!!!